Are you pregnant?

- ? Do you have a doctor for your delivery?
- ? Have you already been referred to a city Obstetrician for your low risk pregnancy?
- ? Did you know that you can receive your pre-natal and delivery care right here in your own community?

WestView Primary Care Network has a Shared Care Maternity Family Practice Program where you can have your complete pregnancy care provided by local family physicians who deliver at the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton.

There are many options available - from complete care by either one male or one female family physician - to shared care provided by a group of female family physicians.

You will be returned to your regular family physician six weeks after your delivery, or if you do not have a family physician, many of these physicians will accept you as a new patient following your delivery!

No Referral Required!

SHARED CARE MATERNITY FAMILY PRACTICE PROGRAM

The Shared Care Maternity Family Practice Program is a family physician focused obstetrics program supported by WestView Primary Care Network.

What is the Shared Care Maternity Family Practice Program?

The Shared Care Maternity Family Practice (SCMFP) Program aims at providing low risk maternity care to expectant women from pregnancy to six-week post-partum. Participating WestView Primary Care Network (PCN) family physicians collaborate and share the maternity care of expectant women who do not have a regular family physician or who are enrolled in the program by their own family physician. Many of these physicians will accept you as a new patient should you not have a family doctor.

We are pleased to provide a variety of local physician options for your maternity care!

WESTLAND MATERNITY GROUP

DR. MARYNA KARPIYEVICH Dr Kar (as she is lovingly known to her patients) has maternity care as a large portion of her practice. Dr. Karpiyevich practices out of Westland Family Practice Clinic in Spruce Grove and is fluent in Russian as well as English.

DR. STAN KROEKER has been delivering babies for years! He loves obstetrics so much he delivers the vast majority of his patients, every evening and weekend. DR. CORINNE PERRY also works out of Westland Family Practice Clinic in Spruce Grove. Dr. Perry follows all of her own maternity patients and delivers all of her patients during the weekdays. Over the weekend she is a busy lady with her young family, often signing over care to the on call physician.
